Internet Matters have provided some great advice on setting up technology safely for children to use at home, with some easy to use guides.

PlayStation online safety quiz for parents | Internet Matters

Christmas is always a time for family and friends to enjoy playing lots of games and activities together.

The above link is a great quiz to do together and to promote discussions of the benefits of online safety and to ensure that the correct settings are in place.

It would be great to have ideas and input from parents and carers on online safety.

During the Spring term, I would like to run small group workshops to help with online safety, discuss how we teach it in school and how you can help with this at home as well as answer any questions.

If you would be interested in attending this, please could you email the office and I can look at setting dates.

You will soon see a new button on our school website.

This is the 'CLICK CEOP' button – this can be used by children and young people to get advice, information and a direct reporting route to CEOP.

We will be talking with the children about this during the next term.
